Candidate Questions

1. How long have you been an ArchiTeam member? July 2017 (~9.5 Years)

2. What were your reasons for joining ArchiTeam?

I've come from a professional background in large collaborative design practice, so starting my own firm I joined ArchiTeam in order to join a fantastically positive support network of smaller and emerging practitioners who could help lend a more collaborative and engaged spirit to what can - at times - be quite an isolating pursuit as a sole practitioner.

3. What is your record of involvement in ArchiTeam affairs to date?

I've have been a Director of ArchiTeam for the last 2 years. I've previously been a member of the CPD Committee for 4+ years. I've attended a number of conferences, as well as entered the awards on a number of occasions, and was lucky to pick up one for a small alterations additions project in 2024.

4. What can you offer to the cooperative as a director?

I believe I can offer a ArchiTeam strong continuity, a deep understanding of the cooperative, as well a fresh perspective, energetic, engaged and collaborative leadership. I can help strengthen ArchiTeam's presence outside the state of Victoria as I am based in Hobart having recently moved from Melbourne in 2021. I am both the lead of a large practice here in Tasmania, but also run my own small practice 'on-the-side', I believe this broad-ranging experience is representative of many ArchiTeam members.

5. Why do you want to be an ArchiTeam director?

I've found being part of the ArchiTeam community to be really rewarding, and being part of the Board the last 2 years has only reinforced how great a cooperative ArchiTeam is. My original desires for wanting to join the Board was about giving back, and for personal growth - challenging myself to 'step up' to something that is challenging, to better connect to the architectural community, and to do my part to help serve the profession. I'd like to continue my involvement to see out some of the great work we've been undertaking these last couple of years and to continue contributing to the success of ArchiTeam.

6. What do you see as the purpose of ArchiTeam?

Beyond the fundamental; '...to support and empower small, and emerging practitioners...' - I believe one of the key roles of ArchiTeam is to provide a collaborative network of peers who do their best to help empower one another to champion good design outcomes for the broader community. This hasn't changed!

7. What do you think ArchiTeam should be doing in future that it is not already doing?

I think ArchiTeam does a great job at 'fighting the good fight' of advocating for the profession, but this is a constant and evolving beast that needs thoughtful leadership. We need to maintain and strengthen advocacy for the role of architects in helping to address the critical challenges of our times; the climate emergency, the regulatory, building, procurement and larger macro-economic environment, the increase of AI, and the perceived 'devaluing' of the profession amongst the other professions within the broader construction industry. ArchiTeam has an important

8. What do you wish to achieve in your 2 year term on the ArchiTeam board?

I hope to continue my involvement to see out some of the great work we've been undertaking these last couple of years, to expand the role of ArchiTeam nationally, and to continue to contribute positively to ArchiTeam's supportive and engaged membership. I would like to continue to work collaboratively with the other directors and staff to help support and nourish this wonderful community.

Candidate Biography (max 120 words)

Sam Perversi-Brooks has a Master of Architecture from RMIT University, and was awarded the Australian Institute of Architects Graduation Prize, and the RMIT Anne Butler Medal recognising design excellence for his thesis project. Sam also holds a BArch, and Diploma of Building Design and Drafting from RMIT.
Sam is based in Hobart and leads the Tasmanian studio of NH Architecture, overseeing the team and enabling the seamless delivery of projects across the state. He has a background in large, collaborative practices working on the briefing, design, coordination and delivery of complex projects within the education, research, commercial and civic sectors.
For the last 10 years Sam has been running his own practice, Perversi-Brooks Architects, focusing primarily on residential and small educational and community projects. This broad-ranging experience has given him a holistic view of the design and delivery of both small, community based and large-scale projects.
Always interested and engaged in expanding design ideas and knowledge within the broader discipline, Sam is a current director of ArchiTeam and Chair of the Board. He has taught within the Architecture department at RMIT University and has been a regular guest critic at the University of Melbourne, Monash University and the University of Tasmania.
